DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 100-102, 104, 106, 108 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Stevenson et al. Note figures 2,3 and conductive element 28 capacitive stacks 40,42 and terminal 12,28, as claimed. As per claim 104-note element 30, which couples 12 to 28.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 41-44, 103, 105, 107 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stevenson et al in view of Nutzman et al. Stevenson et al teach the claimed subject matter except for showing the filling of the case with electrolyte solution via the feed ole. As set forth in Nutzman et al, see Figure 13, it is conventional to use a feedhole to fill the case with electrolyte solution, as claimed and in view of this teaching it would have been obvious to modify the Stevenson et al system to use the feedhole for electrolyte filling, since the same is set forth in Nutzman et al and leads to more efficient manufacturing of the device. Note that use of tabs as per claim 107 and use of crimping as per claim 105 are manufacturing techniques taught in Nutzman et al. Barring further description of the term removable in claim 6, the feedhole assembly in Stevenson et al is considered removable by reversal of the steps used in the insertion of the feedthrough assembly.
